Jones Says 4,000 Enrolled By '75, $8,000,000 Expansion

Northwest State College administrative personnel and the board of regents anticipate an enrollment of more than 4,000 by 1975, more than doubling the present number of students, Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the College, told members of the Maryville Lions Club at their noon luncheon today.

To handle such an enrollment, plans are being laid for on-campus housing, new buildings and other additions in a potential $8,000,000 expansion, Dr. Jones disclosed.

Dr. Jones, speaking on "Looking Ahead for Your College," introduced his talk by indicating the areas and the students served by Northwest State College.

Cites Main Problems

There are three problems which your college faces:

- 1st. Maintaining its standing in the accrediting organizations. The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.
- 2nd. Physical facilities needed to meet quality standards in the face of population trends.
- 3rd. Our problems in a co-ordinated program of public higher education in Missouri.

There is a definite movement toward the establishment of quality criteria in the accrediting procedures of the national accrediting bodies. It is becoming evident that quality standards will cover such items as: The objectives of the college, the relation of these objectives to the curriculums offered, the quality of the faculty, the concern about teaching, the students, the attitude of the institution toward institutional studies, and the library. We must make a report to the National Council on the Accreditation of Teacher Education on March 1st to show how we have reduced the heavy load of student teaching in our campus school by the development of off-campus centers. This is a most serious problem in the future of the college.

4,000 Enrollment Predicted

By 1965 the enrollment of the college should be around 2,500; (Continued on Page Two)

Hottelet to Speak at MSC Assembly December 3

Richard C. Hottelet

Richard C. Hottelet, correspondent and political observer, will appear here on December 3 at the 10:00 o'clock assembly. He is currently appearing each morning on "The CBS Morning News."

Hottelet spent many years in Germany, where he was assigned to cover Bonn in 1951, and returned to the United States in August 1956 to assume a major role in reporting an election year. Televiewers witnessed his acute observations on the American political scene throughout the conventions, election and the inauguration.

Green Prexy Elected

Frosh Elect Greek Slate

Larry Green was elected president of the freshman class Nov. 19; Grace A. Rucker was elected vice-president; Barbara Newlin, secretary; and Jean Benefiel, treasurer. All are Greeks.

Defeated candidates were: for president: Gary Jones, Richard Smith, Larry Wilkinson; for vice president: Jerry Marie, Saunmy English, Robert Hutchins; for secretary: Jerry Farrell, Barbara Noe, Fred Rohlfs; and for treasurer: Paul Christoffers, Wylie Rollins, Charley Steadman.

Regents Grant $25,000 For Gymnasium

The College Board of Regents approved the allocation of $25,000 for some additional work in the new Health and Physical Education Building. This money will be used for some heating, wiring, and other items.

The "grand opening" of the new gym has been scheduled for Jan. 16. The Bearcat cage teams will then play hosts to Warrensburg as the MIAA basketball season gets into full swing.

Regents Approve Slate

The Board of Regents has approved the calendar of the school year of 1960-61, with the fall term opening Sept. 8 and closing Jan. 25. The spring term will open Jan. 31 and close June 1. The 1961 summer term will open June 12 and will close Aug. 8.

ENGLISH TEST GIVEN

One hundred and thirty-three students were required to take the English Proficiency test given Tuesday, November 24, at 10:00 a.m. in the Main Auditorium.

This test is a requirement for graduation and is given to students having completed 45 semester hours.

Meredith Willson To Replace Nash

Meredith Willson will replace Ogden Nash on the spring assembly program according to an announcement by Dr. Sterling Surrey, chairman of the assembly program committee, last week.

Nash, noted poet and humorist, was scheduled to appear February 15, 1960. But, on his doctor's orders, he has cancelled all public appearances.

Willson will present a program in the Health and Physical Education Building April 1. This will be during the high school music contests.

Dr. Surrey assured the Missourian reporter that this is not a premature April Fool gag.

Mann Students Exhibit

Horace Mann High School art students will exhibit their work December 2-18 in the Fine Arts Department on the first floor of the Administration Building. The exhibits can be seen 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Features of the exhibit will include oil paintings, ceramics, pen and ink drawings, and chalk works. A stand out of the display will be several multi-color silk screen prints which required eight weeks of work to complete.

Pi Kappa Sponsors African Lecture

Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensics fraternity, held election of officers at a recent meeting.

David Hargrave was elected president; Lawrence Brown, vice-president; Jeanne Kramme, secretary; Roger Blackwell, treasurer; and Marilyn Gillis, reporter.

Mr. George A. Hinshaw is sponsor of Pi Kappa Delta.

Much Time In Europe

Before his return to America, he lived in Europe much of the time since 1937, covering major news events for the Columbia Broadcasting System for a dozen years. He spent most of the time in Germany, first entering that country as a student at the University of Berlin after earning a B. A. at Brooklyn College. After graduation, he joined United Press and was assigned to the Berlin Bureau. After covering most of the big news stories that led to World War II, he joined the German troops that were then marching into Czechoslovakia. He was also with the first group of correspondents that entered Poland after the German attack there.

Jailed By Nazis

Too outspoken in his opposition to the Nazis, Hottelet was arrested by the Third Reich in 1941 on a trumped-up charge of espionage. After four months in solitary confinement in the notorious Alexanderplatz and Moabit jails, he was exchanged for a Nazi newsman held by the U. S. Department of Justice.

He went to London for the Office of War Information and then joined CBS News under Edward R. Murrow at the beginning of 1944. He was assigned to a Ninth Air Bomber that attacked Utah Beach six minutes before H-hour. From this bombing run, he emerged with the first report of the sea-borne invasion.

Assigned next to the First U. S. Army, Hottelet gave the first report on the German counter-offense which became the Battle of the Bulge. He made the Rhine cross during which he parachuted to safety when his plane was struck by enemy flak. In September of 1945, he made the first postwar broadcast from Warsaw.

In continued pursuit of news in Soviet Russia and all over Europe, this newsman has traveled widely since the war. He was at the Geneva Summit Conference, traveled with Khrushchev and Bulganin on their historic visit to Yugoslavia; and covered the move toward independent government in Poland after the Hungarian rebellion.

This is not open to the public and activity tickets will be required.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

All That Jazz

Often while racing between the Administration castle and the ultra-modern Classroom Building, after just having had my grubby little sophomore ego deflate, I dream of how things will be next year when I am a JUNIOR. . . .

It is English class . . . the teacher returns my paper on which are such remarks as: "I hope you don't call this a theme?" or "Anybody that would hand in this atrocity must be out of his mind."

Later while walking through the book store I accidentally glance at the showcase and notice a book on display that is being acclaimed by the critics as the greatest masterpiece since "War and Peace." It is by—no, it can't be—but, it is. . .

I can dream, can't I? That isn't dreaming. It's a sheer madness! ! !

Oh, new joke?—

She was only an optican's daughter; two glasses and she made a spectacle of herself. . .

Need a new typewriter? Try this new patented method—

"Dear Dad,

The "s" (written with pen) doethn't work on my typewriter, tho I'll thuthitute "th" for it inththead. Thudieth are coming along and I'm thudying at leatht thix hourth a day. Take care of yourthelf and mother, altho. I'll thee you in thix weekth or tho.

Your thudiouth thon,
 Tham"

Tho, what do you think of that for a thwell idea? Now, I've got mythelf doing it.

Boy, it's embarrassing when your younger sister gets better grades than you did when you were a Freshman. It's even more embarrassing if she takes harder courses than you did and still gets better grades. I know because my little sis did. HOLD UP that next letter, pop. I'll explain when I see you (?)

I'll be here at this b-b-blast next week. But until then—
 Cheerio, an' all that Jazz.

Need a Blade

"How are you fixed for blades?" seems to be the question that needs to be answered around the college campus. It appears there is a growing trend, among the men, to dispense with shaving and simply to grow a beard. (At least, I have yet to see a bearded lady, but if I do I understand there is a position open for her at the Shriners' Circus in Kansas City.)

The goatee seems to be quite popular among the sauve intellectuals, while the full "Earnest Hemingway" beard is quite the style with the robust hearty individuals who fancy themselves great artists or adventurers of some sort. (Girls beware!)

Maybe the beard trend that appeared in 1850 and lasted to 1880 is coming back. After all, being college students intellectually inclined, these men have no doubt come in contact with the great bearded men of history—Robert E. Lee, President Lincoln, President Grant, and many others who grew distinguished and glamorous beards. It may be that it is their hope that some of this glory and prestige will rub off on them, or that they are just too lazy to shave.

What ever the reason is that makes beards the growing fad, I have a word of advice for the razor companies. It may help to come around to the Quads and pass out sample razors and blades like the cigarette companies are doing.

For who knows maybe the beardies are out of blades!

Convocation Held
By SCA Nov. 24

The Student Christian Association presented its annual Thanksgiving Convocation Tuesday, November 24, at 4:30 p. m. in the Union Lounge.

The main speaker for the special holiday assembly was the Rev. Howard Judah, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Music for the annual service was provided by the College Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Whitney. Choral selections included in the program were "Hallelujah" by Bach, "Psalm 150" by Franck, "Salvation Is Created" by Tschnekov, "Hallelujah Amen" by Handel, and a choral benediction.

Roger Blackwell acted as program leader and Lu Jane Taylor offered a poetry selection.

The Stroller . . .

In the past week, the Stroller has been as busy as the phones in Residence Hall, listening to students praise instructors for their fine tests given during mid-term. The Stroller didn't understand the sudden interest in botany, but it seemed to him that everyone was interested in "turning over leaves." He also observed that attendance in some classes is about as regular as the bells in the Classroom Building.

While sliding about the walks of the campus, the Stroller also stopped to wonder last week whether some of those Sig Taus wash their faces or just shampoo them.

The Stroller also observed that his second cousin, I. Seymour Things, gets results, because the Stroller no longer has to take along her mountain climbing equipment to scale the caverns of the road by Residence Hall. She is planning on doing some ice skating on the pond in front of the Dormitory, though.

Spying on faculty lounge, the Stroller observed a man get up and offer a chair to a woman: she fainted. When she came to, she thanked him: He fainted.

With nothing else to report, the Stroller will crawl back under the covers and hibernate through a few more classes.

Enrolled by '75

by 1970 it should pass 3,000; and by 1975 it is conceivable that the enrollment would be near 4,000. These figures are based on the assumption that young men and young women will be attending this college in the next fifteen years at the same rate of increase as they have been in the past ten years.

Applications for federal funds have exhausted the appropriation by the last Congress for college housing. However, the division of college housing of the Housing and Home Finance Agency anticipates a continuation of the housing program by the next Congress. It becomes necessary then to make plans now to care for the anticipated enrollments of 1965 to 1975.

Our first step will be to select an architect from those invited to submit preliminary plans and suggestions of meeting the following program:

A dormitory for 500 men to be reached in at least two steps, 250 each,

A dormitory for 500 women, reached in at least two steps, 250 each,

A common dining room and kitchen planned to care for a maximum of 500 in the first step and 500 more in the second step.

Married student facilities for 210 to be reached in two or three steps.

A group of cooperative houses to care for around 200 students to be reached in two or three steps.

The necessary site improvements to include roads, parking facilities, walks, sewers, utilities, etc.

$8,000,000 Estimated Cost

The total project to cost in the neighborhood of $7,500,000 to $8,000,000 and to be reached in two or more steps. While there has been no definite assignment of a campus area for this project, the total housing program could be housed west of the college park in an area 1,000 feet by 1,300 feet on land owned by the college. The college is fortunate in having ground enough to include such a program without having to buy land for housing.

The board is eager to formulate plans that will care for the anticipated enrollments. Invitations will be extended to interested architects to submit ideas looking toward the selection of one or more to work with the college administration.

tion in the development of the application for funds and the final realization of this project.

The third problem ahead of your college deals with problems arising from a coordinated program of public higher education in Missouri. The first concern is the size of the task ahead. Representatives of the state's higher educational institutions are working on this problem under the leadership of Dr. Warren Peterson, of Community Studies, Inc., Kansas City. The enrollment in your college should pass 2,000 next fall and by 1965, 2,500. From then on the enrollment depends on housing, but could reach 3,200 by 1970. Then there is the need for uniformity in accounting and budgetary procedures in the state. Next Tuesday the registration officers of the several state schools and the business officers will meet with the State Budget officials to lay out this program. Robert Foster registrar, and Luther Belcher, business manager, will represent your college.

One of our critical problems has to do with the distribution of facilities for those who desire a college education. The Coordinating Commission is studying the problem of state supported Junior Colleges and there is an effort on the part of educational leaders in our metropolitan areas for additional four year colleges. Locally these plans may result in a drain off of students that will affect local business.

In the state there are three problems of immediate concern:

1. Uniformity of fees and charges to students.

2. The relation of scholarship and loan plans to the cost of maintaining our state colleges and universities, and

3. The problems growing out of admission requirements and standards for remaining in college.

Foster has been granted leave to work on this last problem for the State's Coordinating Commission.

Finally, in the state planning are the problems dealing with strengths and weaknesses in offerings and the possibility of functional allocation.

In conclusion: There are three major problems vital to the welfare of your college: Relation to accreditation, housing, and our place in the state's system of higher education. The cost of educating the youth of the state will increase as the children now in the elementary and secondary schools come of college age. Our local attention to the solution to these three problems and the loyal and encouraging support of the college will have a great deal to do with the business that comes into this community because the college is here. The youth to be educated are available. If they go elsewhere to college you will pay for them in taxes that will go to the other schools. The plans indicated here will help your college grow and business will be better in Maryville because you have put forth your efforts to help.

Capt. Cox Visits Campus; Tells of WAC Program

"The Army will grant a direct commission as a second lieutenant to coeds who can qualify for the Women's Army Corps", says Captain Anita Cox, WAC Selection Officer for Kansas and the western half of Missouri.

She will be at Northwest Missouri State College Monday, November 30, to explain two programs the Army has for coeds. The first program is for those who have their baccalaureate degrees in any major; and the second is a special summer orientation program for college juniors.

"Under the latter program," says Captain Cox, "the junior coed is enlisted as a corporal for four weeks training at the WAC Center at Fort McClellan, Alabama, as a WAC cadet. She receives $122 pay, uniforms, meals, living accommodations, and round trip transportation from the young woman's home to the WAC Center.

"Those who take this summer program have no resulting obligation to the Army. They are contacted at graduation to see if they wish to apply for a commission, and if not, their Army connection is terminated."

"No test is required for the direct commission program," Captain Cox continues, "the baccalaureate degree suffices for the educational requirement."

BEARCAT CAGE PREVIEW

Basketball season is about to start again, and here is a look at what can be expected of the Bearcats in the M.I.A.A.

The Bearcats have five returning lettermen, which is just one under average according to conference records. Springfield, last season's champions, and Kirksville, runner up, have the largest number of returning lettermen with 8 and 10 respectively.

The returning lettermen for the Bearcats are Dale Cramer, 5' 11"; Charles Goff, 5' 11"; Leland Jackson, 6' 6"; Gene Jordan, 6' 3"; and Kenneth Lein, 6' 2". Other returning squad members are: Robert Kress, Robert Ogden, and Doug Swearingen.

Twenty men are on the Bearcat squad; of these ten are new men; however, most of these are transfer students with previous college experience.

Two of the Bearcats returning lettermen, Leland Jackson and Gene Jordan, have thus far scored 211 and 388 points respectively in college ball. Coach Marion Moss expects them to add quite a few more points to this total and to be the main guns in Bearcat attack.

The average height of this year's squad is 6'2.2"; the average weight is 183 pounds, which is second only to Kirksville with a 6'2.8" height and 185 pound weight. In average height of the tallest men the Bearcats rate third in the conference, 6'5.2". The highest average is held by Cape Girardeau, 6' 6".

Last year the Northwest Missouri Bearcats finished fourth in the M.I.A.A. losing 6 games and winning 4. In all games played the Bearcats won 10 and lost 10.

Last year's team also managed to connect for 1154 points and allowed 1214 opponents points to pass through.

Coach Moss hopes the improvement in football; backed up by experience, will rub off on the basketball team since only two lettermen were lost.

Random Shots . . .

Do you know the differences between College and professional wrestling? During the mat season this fall and winter keep your eyes open for these amazing opposites.

If you have ever watched a telecast of professional wrestling, you will have noted the anguished faces of the participants when a submission hold was applied. This hold is the type that causes pain in the joints because of applied pressure.

You will not see this type of hold in college wrestling, nor will you see any kicking, biting, hair pulling, or hitting, as these are also illegal in college wrestling.

College wrestlers do not have "ten counts" to shape-up in before they are disqualified; the referee will automatically give points to the opponents or disqualify the guilty wrestler. College wrestlers must know the rules before they begin a match; they do not have to have an explanation of why they lost.

A. A. U. wrestlers are matched according to strict weight classes. No one is matched out of his particular weight class.

College matches are divided into three-three minute periods with nine minutes in all. At the beginning of the first period the wrestlers in a stand-up position. The second period positions are decided by a coin tossing, and then one decides on the advantages or disadvantage position. At the beginning of the third period these positions are reversed.

A wrestler can win his match on points or decision. Points are awarded as follows: 2 points for a reversal or take-down; 1 point for an escape or predicament; 3 for near falls. Team points for a decision; 2 points for a tie.

Cape Takes Grid Honors; 'Cats 3rd

Cape Girardeau again captured first place in the M.I.A.A. by maintaining a perfect 5-0 mark in conference action. The Indians lived up to the sportscasters pre-season predictions, though they started the season in a very shaky fashion losing 2 while winning only 1 in non-conference action.

The Kirksville Bulldogs managed to pull second position in the M.I.A.A. with their 12-12 tie against the Bearcats. If the Bearcats had won the game, Kirksville would have had to share the honor with the Bearcats. The Bulldogs had the best won lost record in the conference in the total wins department, 6-1-1; and it seemed for a while that Cape Girardeau just might have to play second fiddle this year.

The Northwest Missouri State Bearcats finished a strong third in the M.I.A.A. According to pre-season polls, the Bearcats were expecting to finish in last place; however, it seems Coach Paul Turner turned out quite a superior squad and it did much better than expected. The Bearcats wound up with a 3-3-2 overall record.

Finishing behind the Bearcats were the Rolla Miners, who maintained a 2-3 conference record during the season. The Miners wound up with a 4-4 overall record, but failed to live up to pre-season predictions.

Springfield and Warrensburg tied for fifth place with a rather dismal 1-4 conference record. Each team did rather well against non-conference opponents gaining records of 3-1 and 2-2 respectively, but fell far below par when conference action began.
